DECEMBER 10, 2009

President, Francine Swiger called the meeting to order. Gary Hamilton offered the invocation.

GUESTS

President-elect, Gary Moll, welcomed and introduced guest Phil Koster of Community Ambulance and fellow Rotarian from the newly formed Canal Winchester Rotary Club, Chris Strayer. Chris is visiting various Rotary Clubs for ideas and thanked our club for our help in getting the Canal Winchester Rotary Club, which now has 26 members, started.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

President Francine passed around a thank you note from the YMCA for Rotary's $100 donation.

Sandy Grizzard announced that all slots are filled for the ringing of the Salvation Army bell this weekend. Thank you to those kind souls who will brave the 30 degree weather.

Kyle McPeck announced that the Christmas social was very successful. He asked that Matt Frampton, who supplied the music for the social, be remembered in our prayers as Matt is in Riverside Hospital.

Kyle announced that the Social Committee still has 24 tickets left for the Ohio State basketball game on January 16th. The cost is $25 and includes transportation to and from the game.

Doug Davis announced that he has six tickets available for the Ohio State Rose Bowl Game. See Doug.

Thanks to Mary Swope, Chairman, and Caribeth Legats for obtaining the wreath and incentives that Rotary donates to the Festival of Trees Auction. The Rotary wreath won the Blue Ribbon coming in first out of 49 wreaths. Fred Grant and Brigetta Bryant had the winning bid at the auction for the wreath. Fred and Brigetta donated the wreath back to Rotary and the wreath was auctioned off at our meeting to Doug Waltman for $110.

Caribeth Legats supplied a list of the toys bought for the Salvation Army children for Christmas. Caribeth, Ruthie Ware, Sandy Grizzard, Judy Ross and Steve Jones did a careful job spending $550 at Walmart to pick out toys and items that young people of all ages desire and need. Many will have a brighter Christmas.

Mike Bryan gave a report on the 12 Days of Christmas fund raiser. We have collected $12,600, before expenses, so far. There are still 35 members who have not sold a single ticket. A plea was sent out to these members to make a donation or buy the tickets themselves so that the club could at least match last year's profit. This is a very important fund raiser for Zanesville Daybreak. Tickets and money may be dropped off at Mike's office at 49 N. 4th.

SERGEANT OF ARMS

Tom Barone fined Randy Bankes $1 for not leaving early.

Gerry Zylinsky was fined $1 for passing out calenders to members with her insurance company's name on the calenders. Thank you for the gift Gerry, and Merry Christmas.

Tom then gave the members a "pop quiz" on the Songs of Christmas. The quiz was lots of fun and gave us good laughs--a nice Christmas present.

PROGRAM

Our guest speaker today was member, Rick Miller, who gave his vocational talk. Rick quoted Yogi Bera, "The future ain't what it use to be," to tell us why he joined Rotary. Rick joined Rotary because he wanted to give back to his community. Rick has been married for 21 years and has 3 children. Rick wanted to be a zoologist. He started working for UPS on the graveyard shift while attending college. He put aside his desire to go to far off Tanzania and started through many management positions at UPS including training drivers in Ohio and Michigan on the new electronic clipboard, in which UPS was a pioneer. Rick was the UPS Center Manager for Zanesville, Marietta, Lancaster and Westerville. Each position had their own set of challenges. Rick went to school and learned to be an investment advisor and is now an investment officer with a branch office of Linsco Private Ledger Brokage Firm. Rick and his wife, Tammy, have owned and operated a small beef farm since 1988. Thank you Rick for a very informative program.
